The ZIACHEINER release a versatile album and pay tribute to Bavaria with their new CD "Das schöne Bayernland"!

The ZIACHEINER, the band with the swing from the mountains, have been a synonym for a lively atmosphere and high-class sound for many years. Now they have released their first album in cooperation with TYROLIS MUSIC, one of the leading music companies in the german-speaking world. Recorded in the renowned recording studio of Daniel Gruber in the Zillertal, which produced among others for the Kastelruther Spatzen and G.G. Anderson, the album of the ZIACHEINER includes atmospheric and lively songs from the beautiful homeland, the magic of the mountains, about angels in love and the very special cheerfulness at the traditional „Vihscheid“ in the Bavarian Alps.

A highlight on the musically very versatile album is certainly the title "Das schöne Bayernland". Together with the tv channel Folx TV, which is popular in the Alpine region, a music video was shot for this exciting song, which shows the most beautiful landscapes in the Allgäu: the wonderful area of the bavarian royal castles, the idyllic Alpsee, the imposing Ammergau Alps and the wonderfully embedded Forggensee can be admired here. High up on the Bavarian mountains, deep down in the Pöllat Gorge and on a sailing boat dancing on the waves, the ZIACHEINER sing, yodel and play - even the immortal fairy-tale king, Ludwig II, would have had his true joy!
